

Jennifer Stevenson

Broker Associate

Jennifer is an experienced entrepreneur with extensive financial and business management, negotiating, accounting, and sales expertise.

She has first hand knowledge of the challenges business owners face. In July of 2008, Jennifer successfully sold her commercial construction company at a substantial profit. With over 15 years in all aspects of hands-on operational experience, with large and small businesses, she can provide practical advice to sellers and purchasers. Jennifer is now using her personal experiences of business ownership to successfully navigate others through the complexities of a business transfer.

With a unique background in primarily male dominated industries, Jennifer's extensive knowledge in Manufacturing, Mining, Railroad, Commercial Construction, Transportation, and Real Estate has earned her the respect of her peers.

Her pro-active approach to sales and familiarity with financial statements, taxation, and auditing procedures gives Jennifer the edge in accurately evaluating businesses and negotiating transactions.

Jennifer holds a BA in Business from Texas Woman's University. Born in Dallas, Jennifer relocated to Colorado Springs with her husband and daughter in 2001. An avid camper, fisherman, and interior decorator in her off-time, Jennifer still finds precious time to explore her faith and spirituality.

Please contact Jennifer with your questions about selling, buying or valuing a business.
The consultations are confidential and without obligation.